We are not responsible for any lost clothing or personal property while at camp. Do not overpack food and if you pack snacks, be responsible for them and the trash they produce. Healthy snacks are a great idea to keep you feeling good throughout the week.

Cabins and dorms

Members will sign up for cabins and dorms in a couple of weeks. Once they have signed up, they must use that cabin only. Keep it safe, orderly, and family friendly. Avoid all possible accident situations. WALK to and from all locations. Practicing is allowed if you are not disturbing other members of your cabin. There are plenty of other indoor and outdoor areas to practice throughout the camp. All audio equipment with speakers must be silenced at lights out. If you prefer to listen to music after lights out, it must be done with headphones.

Do not borrow any equipment that belongs to others. Do not let anyone else borrow your equipment. If it is damaged, we are quite a distance from home to have it repaired or replaced.

Each cabin and dorm will share the responsibilities of meal set up and take down. A schedule will be determined at the beginning of the week and students will be expected to be early for meal time to help set up. Those students will release from rehearsal early as needed.

Cabins should remain clean throughout the week. There will be an award for the cleanest cabin at the end of the week!
